

FRENCH WINE SCHOLAR™

The French Wine Scholar program provides students with a deep level of information on each wine region of France, helping students achieve a professional level of proficiency in French wine. French Wine Scholar™ classes are offered by licensed program providers and delivered by an approved FWS instructor. This study format includes:

Classroom instruction with tutored tastings

- A copy of the FWS study manual
- Access to the FWS online study modules & quizzes
- In-classroom exam sit
- All FWS program providers teach from the same Wine Scholar Guild-developed presentations and are supplied with uniform teaching materials.

What you'll learn:

COMPREHENSIVE COVERAGE OF FRANCE'S 14 DISTINCT WINE REGIONS:

- Viticultural history, wine culture, and traditions
- Location and climate and their effects on viticulture and wine style
- Topography, geography, and soils and their impact on the wine
- Grape varieties and their organoleptic profiles
- Viticulture and winemaking practices
- Wine industry trends and economics
- All AOCs, with their regulations, wine styles, and specificities
- Fundamental Unit covers the history of France, its political geography, physical geography, climate, soils, grapes, training systems, and viticultural & vinicultural practices, plus an essential piece on how AOCs are counted and why different sources quote different figures.
